We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

Maybe if they cut down on some of the money being spent in Washington, they wouldn't have to cut down on the old folk's Social Security.

I've heard a lot of talk about Social Security going broke and I don't see any reason for it when the powers that be seem to have enough for Mrs. Carter's servants and so on.

SENIOR CITIZEN

I read your story about the $60,000 that a local group is going to get to help the unemployed. That's fine but, if you figure that the whole county is getting about $9 million, it's not so hot for Campbell.

Why didn't we get a bigger piece of that "pie" you were talking about?

WONDERING

Editor's note: According to a spokesman for the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board, the application from West Valley Chicano Neighborhood Enterprizes, Inc., was the only one they received from Campbell. City Manager Bob Stephens says none of his department heads requested help through the "special projects" funding. Cities and non-profit agencies are being given until May 25 to come up with new project ideas. The Board, by the way, has the "problem" of figuring out how to allocate that additional $9 million they hadn't counted on. So even groups ranked fairly low in the pecking order, such as the Campbell group, were funded.

I never heard of such a thing! Going through all that red tape just to add a room onto your home. I certainly feel something should be done about it. And soon.

UPSET

Editor's note: Something was. See related article about the downtown Planned Development zone in today's paper.

What's the matter with the trees along Rincon ave? They look like they're dying. Some are doing great and others, 20 feet away, have no leaves.

PD red tape waived

A break for homeowners

CALVIN CLEMMONS was hard at work last weekend adding that extra bedroom onto his S. Third st. home.

The local man had been stymied in attempts to obtain a building permit because he lives in downtown Campbell, now blanketed with Planned Development zoning.

Last Monday city councilmen unanimously waived the present provisions of the city ordinance, which require a three to six month delay, and gave Clemmons the go-ahead. Tuesday morning he resubmitted his plans to the building and planning departments and was on his way within the hour — permit in hand.

"I really don't believe the Council intended that existing houses in the PD zone be included (in the hearing process)," City Attorney Bob Dempster noted at the council session. "It doesn't really make a great deal of sense."

COUNCILMEN AGREED and gave Clemmons his waiver while asking planning to come up with a new policy to handle similar cases in the future.

Until that new policy can be drafted and adopted, local homeowners who want to add on a room, or a carport, can petition the City Council directly to by-pass the tedious process required of other PD developments.

Originally imposed to help with the orderly development of downtown, the PD zone also carried with it a few, unexpected hamstrings for local homeowners. Like a $75 fee and hearings before the Site and Architectural Review Committee, Planning Commission and City Council before a building permit could be issued for room additions, for example.

CLEMMONS WAS the first homeowner to run into the legal stumbling block and, last week, officials took the first step towards eliminating it.

"I feel we should allow additions to existing R-1 property," Councilman Rusty Hammer commented, "where it will remain an R-1 use. But I don't think (the new policy statement) should be so broad as to include all residential use."

Parking district up to bat

THE FUTURE, if any, of the downtown off street parking district will be a key discussion at the Monday, May 23 meeting of the Campbell City Council. Sessions start at 8 p.m. in City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

Last week, a meeting was held between Bill McLaughlin, co-owner of The Factory and downtown property owners. If the original district is to be saved, one owner related, the cost must be reduced to five cents a square foot, as originally estimated. One possible way to reduce costs, the owner said, would be for the city to sell its land within the parking district for cost, rather than current market value as proposed.

McLaughlin told the Council two weeks ago, he and the owners of The Bodega are prepared to go it alone with their own parking district if the original plan can't be saved. His plan includes a two-decker parking area behind The Factory.

Also on the agenda Monday is:

o A proposal to move the Senior Nutrition Site from Briner Hall to the Grange Hall when the present contract expires June 30. In addition to a small cost savings ($430 compare to $460 a month), the 109 N. First st. hall offers better restroom facilities and is air conditioned, a city staffer said.

o A hearing on the expenditure of $325,000 in federal revenue sharing funds. Officials will hear requests and suggestions from citizens on how this money should be spent.

o A request for a variance of the local bingo ordinance by the Knight Raiders Drum and Bugle Corps. The non-profit group wants to hold weekly bingo games at the old Moose Hall on McGlincey lane, in a light manufacturing area. Under present city ordinance, bingo games are allowed only in commercial zones.

o A request from the San Jose Children's Camp for partial funding for their program which offers camperships for disadvantaged youngsters. According to reports the County offered to match donations by cities for this year's program. A camp spokesman says Campbell's share of the contribution should be $1,000.

o Hear a staff recommendation for a consultant for Phase II of the Los Gatos Creek Park project. Last week eight firms submitted proposals.

Been fishing on Central??

If you were "fishing" recently in the manhole on the railroad property on S. Central ave., Campbell police would like a word with you.

According to reports, three maintenance men discovered a clear plastic bag, hanging from a string secured with a fish hook when they removed the manhole cover recently.

Inside the bag was a white powder substance which police believe may be narcotics. The powder was sent to the lab for study.

Late rains a boon to blossoms

May's unseasonal showers are a boon to local flora and fauna, even if they do make weekend picnic planning a problem. Last year Campbell didn't have a drop of rain during May compared to .67 inches so far for the month this year. Season rainfall to date is 7.83 inches, compared to 5.70 last year at this time and a normal of 14.90.

Teachers ask for cost of living hike

Teachers in the Campbell Union High School District are asking for a cost of living increase in their 1977-78 contract proposal, now under negotiation.

Preliminary negotiations are now underway and major issues include binding arbitration, class size, working conditions, grievance procedures, activity assignments and salary.

According to Mike Dubois, president of the Campbell Union High School District Education Association, teacher proposals were presented to the Board of Trustees on Feb. 2.

Since the District did not release its proposed contract until April 19, six days before the start of negotiations, Dubois said the group has requested specific sections of the proposal be delayed until May 5 to allow time for review.

A memorial concert for Ed Tonini

The Campbell Junior High School Concert Band is planning a memorial concert in honor of the late Ed Tonini on Friday, June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Campbell High School auditorium.

There is no admission but reserve seat tickets are available at the junior high school office, 295 Cherry lane, at Jeffer's Mens Store, 241 E. Campbell ave. or from band students.

Donations for the Ed Tonini Memorial Fund will be accepted at the concert or at the school office.

Conducting the concert will be Wally Johnson with guest soloist Wally Bekowies.

How young drinkers hide their habit

The big excuse: 'peer pressure' drives school-age kids to drink

EDITOR'S NOTE — In this second of a two-part examination of the problem of alcoholism in youngsters, writer David L. Miller explores some of the factors that induce children to try liquor, and why some experts believe alcohol is more dangerous than marijuana.

By DAVID L. MILLER

YOUNGSTERS DRINK for a variety of reasons including adult acceptance, availability, personality problems and enjoyment.

Many children learn to drink at home. Current studies indicate that most youngsters' alcohol-use patterns eventually parallel those of their parents.

"Two-thirds of all divorces are alcohol-related and kids have a 70 per cent chance to be alcoholics if they come from homes with alcohol role models," says Denise Baccala of the National Council on Alcoholism's San Mateo county office.

In a survey by the National Institute for Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse/Social Advocates for Youth, 59 per cent of the grade schoolers first obtained alcohol from their parents and 65 per cent drink at home.

"If a kid smokes pot, his parents go bananas," says Santa Clara County Drug Abuse Program Director Robert Garner. "But if he drinks, his parents are proud

Many parents condone alcohol, reacting to their children's use saying, "Thank God, he's not on drugs!"
because the kid is using their own drug of abuse."

ALTHOUGH THE 1974 Uniform Crime Reports indicate that alcohol-related juvenile arrests (driving while intoxicated, liquor law violations, and drunkenness) increased nationally by 135 per cent between 1960 and 1973, police officers go easy on and sometimes encourage young drinkers, says Garner.

"The kids are smart," explains Garner. "They know when they get high on dope or PCP it's a good idea to bring beer, so when the cop catches them he'll say, laughing, 'oh, just some kids drinking,' and take them home."

When the NIAAA-SAFY grade school survey asked children why they drink, the most common answers were: "I want to use it," "like the taste," "My parents say it's all right," "nothing else to do," "like the effects," "I want to be grown-up," and "peer pressure." Older kids add "to sleep," "to dance," and "to get turned on sexually," says Doris Schwarz, SAFY's project coordinator.

Schwarz says youngsters have learned to answer "peer pressure" to escape trouble.

"It's a canned phrase that even the littlest kid uses," she says. " 'Peer pressure' takes the responsibility off of everybody. Parents and kids use it to ignore the problem. I prefer to use the phrase 'peer support.' "

Schwarz suggests that boredom might be one reason alcoholism's prevalence among youth and adults is higher in rural populations.

SPECIAL problems counselor and Santa Clara County Drug Commission member Phil Bliss says drinking among youth is increasing because alcohol is easily obtainable, cheap, and marijuana prices have skyrocketed.

"Since California decriminalized marijuana the demand has risen, pushers are being arrested more and the supply has dwindled. Kids can't afford $50 a week for marijuana, but stealing from their parents and $10 will keep them drunk all week. The law tried to do something enlightened, but it backfired by turning more kids to alcohol. I'm willing to say publicly that alcohol is more dangerous than marijuana," says Bliss.

Most experts agree that drinking is often symptomatic of greater social problems such as the need for adult acceptance, failure to cope in school, depression, defiance to authority, sexual confusion and abusive parents.

Over 50 per cent of child abuse is related to alcoholism, according to the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug

While a youngster's problem drinking may cause school cuts, poor grades and social isolation, Bliss says drug-taking itself causes little anxiety.

"Kids don't come to me worried about their drug abuse. They come with social problems of which drugs are manifestations. They know that it's easy to incorporate a drug abuse pattern into their lives without too much anxiety. They can float through school, be drunk in class, loaded at home and learn to function. If they were married or working, then they would feel the pressure of their life style," says Bliss.

BLISS STRESSES primary prevention aimed at stopping drug-taking before it occurs.

Many experts regard alcohol use among youth as a contemporary social phenomenon, a manifestation of Alvin Toffler's theory of "Future Shock."

"It's a normal pattern of behavior for kids in our society to experiment with chemicals and other adult behaviors like sex and driving," says Schwarz.

Television, newspapers and comic strips teach children that alcohol consumption is a normal effective vehicle for escape, courage-building, recreation and anxiety relief, says Larry Lisenbee, Santa Clara County's Bureau of Alcohol Services' Health Education Specialist.

"The liquor industry's unethical advertising," says Lisenbee, "aggravates the problem by appealing to children with fruit-flavored wines, milk-flavored booze, rum candies and subliminal symbolism aimed at people's basest emotions."

Fifteen per cent of the adult population buys 70 per cent of the alcohol sold, says Don Dooley, a State Health Department executive.

"Our children are exposed to these horrendous ads," says Dooley.

GOVERNMENT tax interests and the powerful liquor lobby interfere with efforts to control unethical big alcohol business practices, adds Dooley.

One controversial theory regards alcoholism as a genetic disease. A Washington University study conducted on 133 Scandinavians by Dr. Donald Goodwin found that men with alcoholic natural fathers who were raised by foster parents were four times as likely to be alcoholics themselves than the foster sons with non-alcoholic fathers.

"The hereditary-physiological predisposition theory has not been proved conclusively, but I think it's one reason some children are alcoholics," says Schwarz.

Although alcoholism treatment programs like Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) report increased participation by adolescents, juveniles suffer from inadequate treatment opportunities.

"The few Peninsula agencies that handle alcoholic teenagers are swamped," says Baccala.

"We are behind in reacting to the kids' emerging alcohol trend," says Lisenbee. "I only know of one recovery home in Santa Clara county that accepts kids aged 14 to 18, and it only has six spaces in an adult facility. We need many separate facilities that concentrate on prevention and respond to adolescent problems."

More prevention programs promoting responsible decision-making about alcohol use, progressive family programs, constructive recreational activities, and more special problems counselors presenting alcohol education as an integrated part of school curricula are immediate future needs, says Lisenbee.

ALCOHOLISM among teenagers is an increasing problem as evidenced by scenes like these. Santa Clara county figures for teenager drinking parallel national trends.

Teachers want a 6-hour work day

By TOM BURKE

Teachers in the Campbell Union School District have asked for a 14 per cent salary increase for the 1977-78 school year.

The increase was a major part of the list of contract conditions given Thursday night to district trustees by the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association (CETA).

The conditions were received from CETA president Phil Short without comment but the board has scheduled a public hearing on the issue at its next meeting, May 26.

Other conditions of the contract were that CETA be designated the exclusive bargaining agent for the district's teachers, a reduction in class size and a six-hour working day.

Superintendent Walter Hauss said the conditions would be displayed at each district school and the district office. Major features of the 24-page document were:

- A 14 per cent salary increase accompanied by cost of living increases based on the Bay Area consumer price index.
- A six-hour work day for teachers, including class preparation and time spent before and after school.
- Classes would be limited to 25 students in elementary school and teachers would receive $25 per month for each additional student over the maximum.
- Junior high school teachers would have no more than 125 students for each five-period school day.
- Membership in CETA would be required of all teachers and the association would be recognized as their only bargaining agent.
- Retirement between ages 55-60 would be voluntary.

Copies of the contract conditions are available at the district office, 155 N. 3rd St., during business hours.

Administrators get a pay hike

Administrators of the Campbell Union School District were given a retroactive four per cent salary increase for the 1976-77 school year Thursday night.

The raise was recommended by superintendent Walter Hauss who noted all other district employees had received the same increase this year.

Gordon Martin, president of the West Valley Teachers Federation, was mildly critical of the action and said the board had previously declared its intention to narrow the gap between administrative and teaching salaries.

"Four per cent for teachers means considerably less than four per cent for administrators," Martin added.

Try-outs for new theater group set

Actors, dancers, singers, musicians and people with circus talents are invited to audition June 8 and 9 for "Circus, Circus", the first production of the Creative Community Theatre (CCT), a new theatre program for adults.

West Valley College instructor James Callner is author and director of the original musical which will open July 29 in the Gunderson High School auditorium.

The new theatre group is open to those 18 and older and people are also needed to help with costumes, scenery, props and publicity.

Neighborhood reaction came as a big surprise

EDITOR:

For the past three months, I have been attempting to open a home for mentally handicapped adults in a residential neighborhood in Campbell. My initial belief that this would be a fairly simple undertaking proved quite wrong.

When I began last January, I assumed that people in general had come further in their attitudes towards handicapped persons than they really had. Probably because of my own good fortune in working with handicapped people, I believed that others felt as I did and knew them as friendly, open and gentle people. I have so enjoyed my experience with the handicapped that the negative reaction of so many people came as a real shock.

The California state law declares, "that mentally and physically handicapped persons are entitled to live in normal residential surroundings and should not be excluded therefrom because of their disability." Rather than considering this law as a weapon to obtain a use permit and fire clearance (as some have accused me of doing in public hearings), I had thought of it as stating only what would be in the heart of every human person.

Each day that I go to work in a sheltered workshop for the handicapped, a young woman, who hopefully will be my first resident, asks me if I have my license yet. Each day I have to answer, "no." I say only this because I cannot tell her that some of my neighbors fear that her being with me will lower the value of their property or that they are even a bit afraid of her. I cannot say to her, already hurt by a society that rejects and alienates anyone who is "different," that well-meaning people feel threatened by her hope to live in their community.

The care of the handicapped is not solely the responsibility of the state but of the local community as well. If we admit to ourselves that a handicapped person has dignity and worth equal to any other human being, then we will assume our share of this responsibility.

My deepest concern is for a better life for the handicapped. I feel that this better life will only be achieved when the handicapped are accepted in every city and every neighborhood.

Throughout the past months these words have constantly been with me: "You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO BE HERE."

Sister Geraldine Harris, SND

Editor's note: Planning Commission approval of the use permit for this care home was given March 15. Residents of the neighborhood later appealed this decision to the City Council and that appeal was unanimously denied on April 11. Before a license from the state department of health could be issued, a fire inspection of the building had to be carried out. Campbell fire officials asked the State Fire Marshal's Office to handle that inspection and, at last report, that fire clearance and the license were expected to be issued sometime this week.

We hear you

Editor's note: We've asked that question of the park people but, so far, they haven't been able to find the trees you're talking about. Maybe if you could call back and give some exact addresses it would help.

I think the city should repave Central ave., between Payne and Hamilton ave. You need air shocks to get through it. I have to travel that road several times a day.

CONCERNED DRIVER

That picture on the front page last week can't be for real. It looks like something plastic. Are you sure you weren't taken?

YOUNG READER

Editor's note: I agree the lemon did look strange and even our photographer, Amy Huntoon, said it didn't look real . . . until she touched and smelled it.

About that woman who had her cat caught in the trap again. I can understand her feelings but personally, I say if someone cares about their pet they don't let them outside to get caught in traps, run over, etc.

BANK HOLD UP

The First National Bank at 2395 S. Winchester blvd. was reportedly held up by a "very serious" man who handed a teller a note demanding cash last Tuesday. Police believe the man may be responsible for several bank robberies in this area.

A total of $855 was reportedly taken in the robbery.

Police and federal bureau of investigation agents are investigating.

TRIO TO HALL

Three Campbell High School students were taken to Juvenile Hall on a charge of trespassing last week after police saw them entering the old Campbell grammar school across the street.

A search of the building turned up their bicycles in one room. The three were later found hiding in the rafters.

The abandoned school building has been broken into dozens of times since West Valley College terminated their lease last year.

THEY DIDN'T WANT THE TROPHIES

An apartment on Watson drive was broken into last week and the thieves made off with jewelry, guns and stereo equipment valued at over $1,200. Five items were later recovered outside.

Apparently discarded by the thieves were three trophies and a pair of candlesticks.

LIQUOR STORE ROBBED

McGoons Grog Shop, 1277 Hacienda ave., was reportedly held up last Wednesday and the two suspects escaped with $494 in cash.

According to reports, the two men entered the store separately and one man brought a carton of milk to the counter while the other browsed through the wine rack. The first man pulled a gun on the clerk and demanded the cash.

The two fled the scene but left one thing behind. Police have dusted the milk carton for fingerprints.

FRACUS ENDS IN ARREST

A 28-year-old Pacific Grove man was arrested on an assault and battery charge last Wednesday after an incident along the roadway at San Tomas Expressway and Budd ave.

According to reports the man, being given a lift by the victim, told him to turn off the expressway to Budd ave. and became angry when the man didn't respond immediately.

The victim says the suspect punched him in the right eye, again demanding that he make the turn. When the victim countered that the punch "didn't hurt" the suspect unsheathed a machete he was holding and made a lunge at the driver who immediately pulled off the roadway and grabbed the machete away from the assailant, cutting his fingers in the process.

The altercation continued as the victim took the machete and threw it into some bushes nearby. A fist fight then broke out between the two along the roadway and, as the suspect had grabbed a hammer from the truck to continue the fight, police arrived and arrested him.

PATIENT ROBBED

While a 53-year-old woman was hospitalized at Campbell Community Hospital, her car was broken into in the parking lot and $377 in valuables found missing.

The woman, who was in the hospital for over three weeks, told police a camera and eyeglasses were stolen.

STARTLED WAITRESS FOILS ROBBERY

A waitress at the Black Kettle Restaurant in The Factory foiled an apparent robbery attempt last Friday.

According to reports a man entered about 2:30 p.m. that afternoon and walked up to her at the cash register. He mumbled something unintelligible to the woman who responded, "What?" At that, she said, the man poked a pair of scissors against her side. The woman was scared and backed up, pushing the suspect away from her. At that the man fled, chased by the bartender who noted a description of the suspect's car for police.

COSTUMES STOLEN

A dancer returned to her car parked at The Factory last Saturday to find it broken into and a large suitcase missing.

Inside were clothes and costumes valued at over $2,200, including five long sequinned gowns and two feather boas.

Bill Baptiste

A 'royal' bandmaster reminisces about his island-mainland days

By GERRY O'HARA

FOR MORE THAN four decades, Bill Baptiste of Williams road has been shuttling his musical and recreational interests between Hawaii and the Bay area. A noted bandmaster, Baptiste, now in his mid 80's, began his long career of teaching and directing bands in Hawaii, culminating in the distinguished honor of Bandmaster for the Royal Hawaiian Band in the 50's.

Bill's first trip to California was in 1928. He became bandmaster for the San Francisco Newscarrier's Band, leading many parades and concerts. At the same time the enterprising young musician doubled as bandmaster for the San Rafael Military Band.

When the Golden Gate Bridge was nearing completion, Bill was invited to lead the Newscarrier's Band across the broad expanse in an opening day parade. As the day neared, excitement mounted.

Bill recalls, "I had looked forward to that treasured moment of crossing the Golden Gate Bridge with my youthful band in full reglaia but at the last minute I was called back to Hawaii for an assignment as bandmaster at the Kalakaua School. In honolulu, I was riding in a taxi when the radio carried the familiar sounds of my band's music as they crossed the fabled bridge without me. I could feel tears in my eyes."

Returning to California a few years later, Bill formed an all girls' band for Mount Saint Joseph High School. It was a first for San Francisco. A few years later, returning to the Islands he put together the only all girls' band in Hawaii, too.

"IT WAS QUITE a band," Bill recalls, "We outfitted the girls in purple and white capes and caps — they sparkled! We even had flag twirlers and majorettes."

Bill was in the Islands when Pearl Harbor was bombed. Blasts threw shrapnel and debris very close to his mother's house but she was unruffled when he told her she might have been killed.

"She simply looked at me with an air of serenity and said, 'I was not worried, on. After all, I had just been to church.' "

Bill returned to San Francisco the next year on the SS Luriline. It was an uneventful voyage but a later trip back to Hawaii was more exciting than Bill likes to remember.

He was on a concrete ship built by Kaiser and the enormous craft was under constant surveillance by enemy submarines. Finally reaching Pearl Harbor unscathed, the weight of the cement ship put it aground just short of the pier.

Bill continued shuttling back and forth between the bay area and the Islands and became recognized as a first rate band leader.

IN 1955 A LIFETIME dream was realized when Bill was appointed Bandmaster of the Royal Hawaiian Band. The band was held in high esteem and the highlight of many civic functions, parades and Sunday concerts.

With his outgoing personality, it was only natural Bill especially liked striking up the band portside for arriving and departing oceanliners. Colored streamers rained down as the Royal Hawaiian Band played their lovely Island music.

The bandmaster's job had political as well as musical overtones and when the government changed hands Bill faced some difficult decisions.

"I was being pressured into hiring certain individuals who had gained favor with the government. I felt this was not compatible with the high standards of our band and I refused to follow the hiring directive," Baptista said. He was not surprised when his appointment was not renewed the following year.

BILL RETURNED to the Bay area to resume teaching high school bands carrying with him tape and film memories of his two years as Royal Hawaiian Bandmaster.

Baptiste's memory is sharp, spanning most of his 80 some years. He recalls stories his father told him about settling in Hawaii. His father, born in Normandy, had a burning desire to go to Hawaii. At the age of 14 he stowed away on a steamer but had to come out of hiding when hunger became unbearable. The crew admired the youth's pluck and allowed him to work at minor tasks in return for passage.

In Hawaii, the senior Baptiste eagerly accepted any job that came his way. Eventually working as a ranger on a large plantation, he married and later purchased an old two-story schoolhouse. Bill remembers many rooms in the old house and as many brothers and sisters to fill them.

In Bill's own younger days the active volcanoes dotting the Islands intrigued him. He and a companion hiked a primitive trail into Kilauea Volcano. They picked their way over sharp volcanic rock until they reached a ridge where they could watch the lava on the far side spitting into the air. They kept their vigil until after nightfall.

"It was darker than midnight and the volcano spewed rainbow colors into the air like a Fourth of July celebration," Bill said.

After a while the two young men, bathed in the light of the shooting lava, climbed the footpath back to the top of the crater. When they reached the summit, rocks began to break loose and they watched in horrified fascination as a landslide sent rocks and earth tumbling into the pit of the volcano.

IN 1940 A FRIEND of Bill's was not as lucky in his encounter with Kilauea. The volcano erupted and the man, husband of a musician in Bill's band, took a light plane up to get some action photos of the volcano's fury. He took one pass over the fiery hole and fuming gases sucked the aircraft into the depths of the crater.

Bill married Amy, a petite woman who radiates warmth, in 1947. When they lived in the Islands she loved entertaining, especially on a large scale. She invited 150 guests to one of Bill's birthday parties and did every bit of baking and cooking herself — staying up all night to do it. Bill remembers renting a huge canopy that billowed over the garden to protect the guests in case a sudden rainstorm struck.

The Baptistes eventually settled in San Jose because they preferred the milder climate to San Francisco's. They had earlier made many friends in the area. They continue to travel extensively with an energy that age does not slow down. In 1969 they toured Europe; they cruised the Caribbean twice; and each anniversary is celebrated in Hawaii.

Bill retired in 1958. That is, if you can call teaching music at home (he knows every instrument); attending every meeting and social event of the Knights of Columbus; participating in all the impressive Fourth Degree (Knights) ceremonials with plumed hat and sword; and occationally popping in at one of the other fraternal organizations — retiring.

Over the years the Baptistes have collected many lovely treasures. A delicate oriental vase, hand crafted by Chinese artisans was handed down by Bill's mother. His great grandmother's contribution is this beautiful porcelain rendering of the Madonna and child.

WVFT honors four at banquet

Four present or former Campbell elementary school trustees have been selected by the West Valley Federation of Teachers for their first annual Trustee Recognition Dinner Thursday, June 2 at Sunsweet Hall.

Picked for recognition were Trustee Jennie Vaughn, and former trustees Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, Richard MacQuiddy and Ralph Steinberg.

"We are inviting all district employees and district citizens," said Gordon Martin, WVFT president. "We fell there are many who would like the opportunity to express their appreciation for the years of service these fine citizens have given the school district."

Those interested in attending the dinner can contact Virginia McQueen, 356-9021, Lynne Oliveri, 374-6659 or Martin at 354-6704 after school hours.

Announcement of the new awards dinner also had some implied criticism of four other present trustees.

"The teachers' union will weigh the performance of the trustees each year," Martin said. "Those who have consistent records in support of education will be honored. We will look forward to the time when we can find all members of the Board deserving of this recognition."

Lynhaven school will present the musical "Oliver" on Wednesday, May 25, at 1 and 7:30 p.m. Above, from left, Jeff Goddsmith, Jason Walters, Ronnie Wills, Kenny Reinhard and Peter Liggot practice "Consider Yourself," one of the lead songs. Public service project job money allocated

THE SANTA Clara Valley Employment and Training Board has allocated just under $9 million to public and non-profit agencies for public service project jobs.

The board, meeting in special session, funded 934 positions and 288 projects totaling $8,613,007.

"In addition to the $8.6 million," SCVETB Chairman Rod Diridon said, "administrative costs and overhead must be added. And while prospects for additional Comprehensive Employment and Training Act Title VI monies are good it does not provide the board much latitude for adding more positions."

The board agreed to reconsider proposals not recommended for funding at the meeting and several proposals not submitted by the March 24 deadline.

All projects recommended for funding would be for the 10-month period ending March 31, 1978.

BOARD ACTION approved the following:

Municipality	Projects	Positions	Allocation
Campbell	1	6	$ 60,704
Cupertino	15	29	150,084
Gilroy	12	51	349,470
Los Altos	6	18	192,160
Los Gatos	8	18	154,783
Milpitas	2	11	91,273
Morgan Hill	11	28	309,526
Mt. View	12	23	212,916
Palo Alto	28	57	542,329
San Jose	120	420	3,926,307
Santa Clara	17	33	309,383
Santa Clara County	53	224	2,169,395
Saratoga	3	16	144,677
Totals	288	934	$8,613,007

The board's action allows the staff to proceed with the contracting process so the monies will be utilized as soon as possible after receipt.

The next SCVETB meeting will be May 20, 1977.

A READER writes if rose hips tea is a good source of vitamin C? It is true that rose hips themselves are a rich source of vitamin C but since vitamin C is destroyed by both air and heat, there probably would not be too much left in the tea. Unfortunately, none of the food tables that I have list rose hips.

For the readers who are unfamiliar with rose hips, they are the pod that is left on the rose bush after the rose has bloomed. If one wishes to consume them in any way, be sure that there is no systemic insecticide used on the plant or the rose hips may likely contain more than vitamin C — in lethal doses.

Vitamin C is found primarily in citrus fruits and juices such as oranges, grapefruit, and lemons. Strawberries, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cantaloupe, cabbage, and tomatoes are also excellent sources of vitamin C. Since it is destroyed by heat it is best to consume some fresh fruit or vegetable source daily — some of it will be lost in cooking.

OXYGEN destroys the vitamin C also so keep the orange juice tightly covered in the refrigerator and pour it just before drinking. To preserve the vitamin C in tomatoes, cut the tomatoes into the salad just before putting it on the table. Do not marinate vegetables and fruits which are high in vitamin C and expect them to contain as much as originally. Keep foods high in vitamin C in as large size pieces as possible since the more surface exposed, the more vitamin C that can be lost.

THIS READER also asks about trace elements in rose hips but since I have no nutrient information on them, I cant' give an answer to that question. In general, if you like the taste of rose hip tea, fine. I would not consider it worth the cost if one is drinking it only as a source of vitamin C. There are much less expensive and more reliable sources of vitamin C available. One-half cup of orange juice, for example, contains 60 mg. vitamin C and the RDA for most adults is only 45 mg.

Mexico treks

Prospect teacher helps his students put their Spanish prowess to use

(Photography by Amy Huntoon)

By BARBARA PAGE

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL teacher Ramiro Garcia believes the whole world is a classroom and should be used to enrich students' school work.

And it's not just a lot of talk.

Ramiro has been taking his students south of the border to study "living reality" of the Spanish language for more than a decade.

"Any episode is part of the whole experience of the trip and is a learning experience," Garcia maintains, despite the "inconvenience" of a temporarily missing member of the party, or the red tape involved when someone loses their identity card.

"It happens every trip," the Prospect High School teacher laughs. "One or two students always lose their card no matter how I try to impress on them the importance of keeping it safe."

AND GARCIA misses a heartbeat or two every trip when a head count comes up short. "My heart really starts pumping until the wanderer is found," he admits. "Usually it's an adult who's decided to go off sightseeing by himself, but sometimes a student will strike out on foot for the next stop, not realizing how far it is."

This year he ushered 24 students and six adults — parents and other teachers — to Mexico City and Guadalahara during spring vacation for a 10 day adventure in experiencing a different culture.

The majority are second or third year Spanish language students — many making a repeat trip — who Garcia keeps busy "because the youngsters have so much energy — too much energy."

For this reason the sightseeing and events are structured so that there are not too many free moments for wandering around on one's own. The group stays in "family-type hotels" so they can meet families with children their own age, long enough for friendships but not so long that romances might start up. "We keep on the go a lot," Garcia explains.

ALL IN ALL, the teacher believes that there have probably been more problems with the adults accompanying him than with the students.

"Youngsters accept things," he explains, "but some adults complain about the accommodations (with the bathroom down the hall) or with poor hotel service (they might have to carry their own bags). The culture shock is greater for the adults."

In past trips Garcia has seen previously inseparable friends become completely disenchanted with each other. "True personalities surface when the students are away from home for such an extended period."

"Modern youth is very tolerant, they don't complain, while adults on the other hand may become peaky on the fifth day or so," he finds.

Sometimes the youngsters may behave differently "because they're away from home in a different country." For instance, boys may sneak a beer with their lunch, but, says Garica, "the adults in the group react in that context — in that mileau youngsters' drinking beer is acceptable."

GARCIA RECALLS no problems of any note during his many trips — "barring stomach troubles, of course." He attributes these "minor upsets to changes in altitude, rather than the water. His experience has been that nervous people are more apt to have difficulties and that "when we get to the lower altitude in Guadalahara, everybody gets well."

"Some years are better than others," he acknowledges. "In 10 years we've only had two or three cases of a real intestinal infection."

"Anywhere we have gone, we've always been treated very special," he says, recalling helpful officials during the lost tourist card episodes. "We stroll in many areas of Mexico City with a sense of security not found in any U.S. city. The adults will take night strolls they would be scared to do in San Francisco, for instance. Mexicans are tremendously hospitable."

CULTURE SHOCK is a typical first reaction to the different people and customs, but, says Garcia, "that gradually gives way to a sense of the rhythm of the country of contrasts."

His students feel their trip is worthwhile in that they have a better understanding of their neighbors to the south.

"The best testimony for the trips, though," Garcia says, "is that a great majority said they wished the plane would not come to take them home again. It's very emotional at the end."

Many have said their Mexican sojourn is "the best experience they have had so far in life."

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

Don't take my word for it — here're remarks from questionnaires filled out by patrons at SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED: From Linda in Fremont — "Surprised at the quality of food & drink compared to price"; from a lady in S.J. — "So much for the price & informal atmosphere just right"; from Saratoga — "In your price range you can't be better." I've seen hundreds of testimonials about these restaurants that promise "live lavishly for less than $5" & mean it!

LOS GATOS LODGE invites gourmet diners . . . Chef Wilhelm Sigerus prepares tempting dishes for their new menu such as Veal Oscar (made w/white veal & topped w/sauteed crab legs, asparagus spears & sauce Bearnaise) only $7.95; Tornados Rossini (beef filet topped w/goose liver pate) $8.00 & there's always a chef daily spec. There's entertainment 7 nights a week in the lounge so take my advice & stop by soon.

The colorful atmosphere of the new LA POSADA is only matched by its South of the Border hospitality. You'll think you're right in the heart of Old Mexico — several dining rooms to choose from or you may dine al Fresco on the garden patio under umbrellad tables overlooking the beautiful Old Mill stream. You may select Chili Verde w/Mario's renowned gr. chili sauce, Quesadillas, Huevos Con Chorizo or the Chimy Changa (flour tortilla filled w/chili verde, baked to perfection, topped w/sour cr. & parmesan cheese) . . . all served w/salad, Spanish rice & refried beans — priced $4.95 & under.

Talented "CHAD JEFFERIES" continues to pack in crowds at 94TH AERO SQUADRON Tues. — Sat. nites, 8:30 - 1:30. The decor is conducive to having a relaxed, old fashioned time, & that's just what Chad does . . . He plays your many requests & his list is unending. In addition to that, he has a fabulous personality & a host of friends & fans. "ROXANNE" is on tap every Sun. w/big band sounds of the 40's. Remember the 94TH AERO SQUADRON for lunch, dinner or a marvelous Sun. Brunch.

Do you enjoy dining in a unique decor? If so, CLEMENTINE'S should be first on your list. Situated just in front of the Emporium in the newly refurbished Stfd. Shopping Center, it has an exciting atmosphere. As you enter the foyer, the lovely D.R. is to the left; however, the restaurant changes it personality as you step into the lounge to the right (w/a pop corn vending machine, gasoline pump fish tank & marvelous memorabilia of the past). Here you'll be entertained by a 3 pc. group "GOOD NATURE" Wed. — Sat. — There'a big dance floor for dancing too.

For a romantic evening, visit THE OLD PLANTATION, where you may enjoy the wide selection of good food (incl. many new seafood items), then linger on to dance in "The Uptight Room" (the back rm.) to Rebecca Moss & "GET TOGETHER" a 3 pc. group (piano, guitar, bass), playing a wide variety of music from the 60's & also the current tunes. They appear Wed. - Sat. 9 p.m.- 1 a.m. & they're truly great! The innovation of dancing at THE OLD PLANTATION has gone over in a "big" way — so stop on down & enjoy yourself!

SJ chamber endorses water bonds

THE SAN JOSE Chamber of Commerce is urging support for Measure H, the $56 million water revenue bond issue to go before the voters on Tuesday, May 31.

The Chamber's board of directors, which has long supported the federally-financed San Felipe project, voted unanimously to back Measure H, which will provide a distribution system for water from San Felipe.

Projections by the Santa Clara Valley Water District show water use will exceed normal supply by 1980, even using low population forecasts.

Measure H revenue bonds would help finance wastewater reclamation as well as the expansion of the distribution system to handle San Felipe water.

Prepare pet for travel

By ROBERT L. STEAR,
D.V.M.

WHEN YOUR family prepares for a vacation, the question may arise, what should we do with our dog or cat? If your answer is to take it along, the going will be much easier if your pet has been schooled to travel.

Several weeks before your trip, begin conditioning your pet to the smell of gasoline and vinyl. Let your pet explore the interior of your parked car while you sit inside. The next day repeat the procedure and this time take your pet for a short ride, and then a longer one. If your pet is consistently car sick after this gradual introduction, you may need to contact your veterinarian for a sedative to relax the animal.

On the whole, cats are not as avid car passengers as dogs, so be patient in your training. A cat frightened by the smell of gas, engine noise or movement may never lose its fear of car travel.

SPECIAL CARE is needed whenever a pet is left alone in a car. Sun on the windshield can turn a car into an oven, and your pet could easily suffocate. If you must leave, try to park in the shade and leave the windows partially open — just enough for ventilation, but not wide enough for your pet to escape. Don't leash your dog to the window or tie him up inside the car, as he might easily hang himself.

On long trips, it's wise to take a supply of your pet's regular food, a jug of water, towels or clean rags and an extra leash. For summer travel, owners of large dogs sometimes line the floor in the back seat with damp towels for the pet to lie on.

Traveling with a pet by bus, plane or other public transportation needs special planning, so call the company in advance of your trip. Transit companies usually have regulations regarding pet travel — including specifications for the carrying case. The best carriers for long distance travel have good ventilation, deep metal cups for food and water and dome-shaped roofs so crates and boxes cannot be piled on top.

Even if you travel only by car, your pet should be accustomed to confinement in a carrier. It is impractical to hold a pet, even a small one, in your lap for long periods. Also, it is not very safe. A frightened pet may jump out an open window or injure the driver and passengers during a sudden stop.

CONDITION your pet to its carrier gradually. Let your cat or dog inspect the open unit at home for several days. Then you can carry your pet around in the carrier, first in the house, then around the neighborhood and finally in the car.

If you want to travel outside the country, visit your veterinarian for a health certificate and possible rabies booster shot. Also contact the foreign embassy or consul official to find out about quarantine restrictions. If you'll be vacationing in a warm climate (inside or out of the United States) that might have mosquitos, ask your veterinarian about heartworm medicine for your dog. When added to your dog's food, heartworm medication prevents the development of certain parasites that enter the dog's body with the bite of an infected mosquito. I'll discuss heartworms in more detail in a future column.

One last note about pet carriers: some owners protest that confinement prevents the pet from "enjoying the trip." I disagree. A nervous cat jumping back and forth from one seat to another, distracting the driver, is not enjoying the trip. Neither does the dog that suffers severe eye irritation from riding along a dusty city or country road with its head out of the window.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Dr. Stear is manager of veterinary services for Norden Laboratories. He regrets that he is unable to personally answer letters from pet owners. He suggests that readers consult their own veterinarians when their pets have problems.

Obtaining a birth certificate

THE SANTA CLARA County Health Department reminds parents that all students who are about to enter school for the first time this September are required in registering to present satisfactory evidence of their age and month of birth. For this purpose, certified copies of birth certificates for children born in this county may be obtained from the Office of the County Recorder, 70 W. Hedding st., San Jose. Cost of a copy of a birth certificate is $2.

The vital registration unit of the Health Department only keeps on file for three years copies of certificates after the year of birth. Beyond the three year period, the public is advised to obtain the certified copies from the Office of the County Recorder.

May 21 through May 27

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Impatience can be your downfall this week, Ari. Newcomer may try to intimidate you. Fat chance. However, if you control your temper, your blood pressure will take care of itself. Week ends on key of C, for chaos and compromise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): This week is hereby designated official Be-King-To-Taurus Week. And why not? After all, Taurus, if you can't be kind to yourself, you certainly can't be kind to others. Week of decision ends on note of intrigue. Hummm

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Happy Birthday Gem! Quick and questioning, you are the innovator extraordinaire. You are demanding, discriminating and dogmatic. You are also prone to dissipation. Ah, but in bed you are absolutely divine! Another Gem plays key role this year and September will be significant month. Your universe (as well as your mind) expands.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You're moody and you know it, Moonbaby. This week you may want to hug your cares to yourself, but you'd be wiser to confide in one you trust. After all, what are friends for? Besides, you've certainly paid your dues (Heaven knows!) to The Wailing Wall Club. This week use club privileges.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Merge your dreams into the common tide of those you love, Leo. Not a simple task, but one that will be most rewarding. You'll see. Would Olga kid around with a big pussycat like you, Leo? Never. Well, hardly ever.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Vibrant individual may try to communicate, and you, my venturesome Virgo, will certainly want to respond. Oh yes. This relationship is not necessarily a fling-type thing we're talking about. But you, of course, will call the shots. As usual.

LIBRA (Sept. 23- Oct. 22): Try to put yourself into sandals of loved one. This may be a difficult and uncomfortable task, but understanding is pivotal to future of relationship. Do this, Libra, and by last day long-hidden truth ZAPS you right in the chops.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Desire strong to go meandering in search of the new, the novel, the exciting, and your fantasy forest is so inviting. Go if you must, Scorp, but scatter a trail of breadcrumbs in your wake. You just may want to backtrack at a moments notice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Freedom you have enjoyed may be curbed to some degree. You chafe at restriction of any kind, Saj, but somehow you manage to muddle through. Message arrives before last day which puts you in a jolly mood. Your daily associates heave a collective sigh of relief.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): One who has seemed rather remote suddenly makes friendly overture. Accept gracefully and make no reference to the past. Dispatch token of affection to one at a distance. Summer is breathing down your pretty neck, Cap. Lay plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Open your heart to love, Aquari, for it is sure to surround you. And remember, if you do not love, you do not live. What more can one say?

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Now see here, Pisces, certain matters exist which simply must be faced. "Spring fever" is an excuse you can use only so long. Partner/mate is reaching end of tether. Week ends on key of G, for goad. And that's good!

Mitchell wins title clincher

Buccaneers capture WVAL bat championship

WES MITCHELL, like the team he plays for, ended the 1977 West Valley Athletic League baseball season with a flourish last Thursday.

The hard throwing Campbell high righthander ventured out of the bullpen for the sixth time in the Buccaneer's' last nine games and blanked the Prospect Panthers for three and a third innings on no-hits.

Mitchell's dazzling relief effort, coupled with his own timely hitting, enabled the Buccaneers to nail down a 9-5 triumph over the stubborn Prospect Panthers.

The victory, Campbell's 11th in a row in league play, clinched its fourth championship under head coach Gordon Huntze since he took over the head coaching duties in 1964.

"The kids really came a long way this season," said Huntze. "Naturally, a string like that needs a little luck. But we got our strong pitching and hitting throughout the season."

"Another key to our season was our bench," Huntze added. "We had a lot of strength and depth on our bench."

"NOW WE'RE JUST looking forward to representing our league in the regionals," noted the Buc boss.

Campbell, however, doesn't play again until May 27th. The Bucs draw a first round bye in the Region III play-offs before taking on the winner of the May 25th game between the champion of the Mt. Hamilton Athletic League and the kingpin of the Santa Teresa Athletic League game.

In his last six appearances in WVAL competition, Mitchell hurled 16 and a third innings, allowing no runs, 10 hits, four walks and striking out 14. In those six games, the Campbell righthander notched two wins and posted four saves.

"He really shut our opponents down this year," praised Huntze.

Mitchell was again brilliant in the win over Prospect. The Buc bullpen ace entered the bottom of the fourth inning with the game tied 5-5 after Prospect had tallied two more runs off of starter Mark Ortiz.

Mitchell went on to blank the Panthers the rest of the way, yielding one walk and no hits while fanning three.

The Buccaneer reliever, meanwhile, played a key role in the win with his bat as well, stroking a two run single in the sixth to cap a three run Campbell outburst. Mitchell finished the game with three RBI's.

A bases loaded walk to Mark Raust in the fifth, however, forced home what proved to be the game winning run, snapping a 5-5 tie.

THE BUCS HAD gotten off to a fast start with two runs in the first and a solo run in the second, on a homer by Ortiz.

But, the last place Panthers, who won only two of 16 games this season, refused to fold and tied the game with two runs of their own in the third.

Campbell came right back in the top of the fourth on Dave Martin's two run single to take a 5-3 lead. But Prospect retaliated with two runs to tie it before Mitchell came on and shut the door on the Panther upset bid.

Campbell had clinched at least a share of the WVAL crown earlier in the week with a 10-0 romp over the Camden Cougars.

Mark Sullivan, raising his record to 6-1, went the distance for the win. Sullivan allowed just three hits, walked five and struck out 10.

Raust drove in the only run Sullivan needed with a first inning double. He later doubled home another run in the fifth and singled in two more in the sixth.

Sullivan also contributed to the Bucs' 12-hit assault with two singles and two RBI's.

THE DEL MAR DONS, meanwhile, completed the most successful season in their 18 year history by blanking the Los Gatos Wildcats 6-0 in their regular season finale last Thursday.

"It was a nice way to end a great year," said head coach Gary Cunningham. "It would have been a little sweeter with a co-championship. But second place in our league is nothing to frown at."

The triumph gave the Dons a 13-3 record in league play, good for a share of second place with Blackford. Del Mar finished with a 22-7 record overall, bettering the Dons' previous best record of 17-9 in 1966.

"It was a rewarding year," noted Cunningham. "It was a little disappointing not finishing first but that sure isn't going to tarnish this year at all."

Jeff Blobaum capped a brilliant season on the mound for Del Mar, hurling the first five innings against Los Gatos for his seventh win in eight decisions.

Blobaum, who also posted three saves on the year to go along with his seven wins, allowed just one walk and three hits while striking out six in his stint. The Don righthander threw only 59 pitches, 36 finding the strike zone.

Southpaw Tom Harris wrapped up the win with two scoreless innings of relief, recording his first save of the season to go along with a 5-2 log.

Back-to-back first inning triples by Doc Medica and Yogi Taylor proved to be the only run the Dons needed on the day.

THE DONS DIDN'T stop there, however, as they went on to score at least one run in every inning but the fifth.

Tom Bell lashed a lead-off double to left-center in the second inning and came home one out later on a single down the third base line by Craig Richesin.

In the third, Taylor drew a one out walk and moved to third on a double to left-center by Mark Intrieri. Taylor then scored on a sacrifice fly by Mike Rusconi while Dan McKay plated Intrieri with a single to left on a two strike pitch.

Jim Dorr was hit by a pitch to open the fourth and was replaced by pinch-runner Fred Gradel. A single by Eric Richesin moved Gradel to second, where he scored moments later on a single to right by Taylor.

The Dons capped their scoring in the sixth when Medica and Taylor rapped consecutive singles to put runners on the corners. Intrieri bounced into a force out at second, allowing Medica to score.

Taylor was three for three in the game with a pair of runs-batted-in to lead the Dons' 12-hit attack. The Del Mar slugger collected seven hits in his last 10 trips to the plate this season to wind up with a .438 batting average (21 for 48).

Dorr was two for two in the win while Medica was two for four. Intrieri, E. Richesin, C. Richesin, Bell and McKay each chipped in with solo hits.

E. Richesin ended the year as Del Mar's leading hitter, xtroking the ball at a .440 clip (22 for 50). McKay, although he didn't have enough at bats to qualify for the team batting title, hit a higher .450 (nine for 20).

Don was third best on the club in average with an even .400 mark (16 for 40). Intrieri (.389), Medica (.353), Rusconi (.341) and C. Richesin (.317) all finished above the .300 mark.

Lipton nabs CCS net title

ALL SEASON long Blackford's Scott Lipton was proving to the teams of the West Valley Athletic League that he was a tennis player to be watched when the big match was up for grabs.

He powered his way past opponents in the WVAL to prove his dominance on the courts of the West Valley.

But now it's not just the teams of the WVAL that are aware of Lipton's racquet ability — it's the entire Central Coast Section!

Lipton rolled to the CCS singles championship recently with a pair of thrilling victories in the semi-finals and finals to nab the crown.

The Blackford star knocked off Andy Lutz of Willow Glen in three sets 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 to nail the CCS singles title after going three sets for a come-from-behind win in the semi's.

Lipton was trailing in the semi-finals 6-2, 3-6, 5-4 when brought to a halt in his Saturday match on May 7.

Lipton and his Aragon high school opponent returned to the court on Monday to finish off their match and the Blackford standout won three points to clinch the match triumph.

In recent regular season WVAL action, Lipton knocked off Del Mar's Steve Brooks 6-2, 6-1 to lead the Braves to a 7-0 victory over the Dons.

In a WVAL golf match last week, Randy Love carded a 73 at Santa Teresa to pace Camden to a 16½-6½ victory over Prospect.

VIKING HURIER — Janet Heldt, a product of Westmont high school and now a pitcher for the West Valley College women's softball team, had the right name but the wrong picture in last week's PRESS. Sue Webb, another Viking, was pictured in last week's paper instead of Heldt.

Vikings, Dons dominate all-loop softball team

If West Valley College and De Anza ever joined forces to play a women's softball game, the starting line-up would look quite impressive.

Well, the chances of that ever happening are pretty slim, but when the coaches of the Bay Area Collegiate Association of Women's Athletics South Section got together last week to pick their all-league team, it looked like that's what they had in mind!

Four Vikings and four Dons claimed spots on the nine player all-BACAWA first team, with an outfielder from Gavilan rounding out the squad.

But it's appropriate that the Vikings and Dons dominate the South BACAWA dream team. The two will represent their section this week in the league championship tournament in Concord.

West Valley and De Anza were headed towards a title tie in the South heading into this week. The Vikes were 13-2 and the Dons were 12-2 going into action Monday.

A tie would force the two clubs into a play-off game Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at Evergreen College for the section title before each of them heads to Concord Thursday and Friday to meet the top two teams from the league's North section in the championships.

Catcher Jeanne Wilde (Branham), pitcher Sue Kinsell (Camden), first sacker Kim Bowles (Pioneer) and outfielder Kelly Smithwick (Cupertino) were each picked to the first all-league team from West Valley, joining four De Anza players and one from Gavilan.

Pam Goldsborough (Willow Glen), the Viking shortstop, was a second team pick and Janet Heldt (Westmont) and Kathy Donecho were each honorable mention choices.

Kinsell rolled up an 8-2 pitching record with an 0.98 earned run average and hit the ball at a .447 clip for West Valley over their first 14 league games. Heldt hit .387 and posted a 4-0 record with an 0.81 ERA for the Vikings.

Wilde hit .333 and led the club in runs-batted in with 16. Bowles hit .379 and Smithwick hit .431.

Goldsborough led the Vikes in six offensive categories while rolling up a .431 average. She scored 28 runs, stole 13 bases, walked 13 times, had three sacrifice bunts and, along with Smithwick, went to the plate 44 times and had 19 hits.

Sue Webb (Silver Creek) hit .323 for the Vikes stealing eight bases and driving in 12 runs, and Cathy uiterrez (Branham) hit .320. Michelle Miner (Branham) hit .261 and drove in 12 runs. Donecho hit .333 for the Vikes.

In their most recent league outing, the Vikings rubbed Gavilan 10-0 behind Kinsell's two hitter. For Kisell, it was her fifth two hitter to go along with three one-hitters and a no-hitter.

Hot hitting Rose, Mork nail all-GGC bat honors

In all the years baseball has been one of the spring sports on the West Valley College campuses in Campbell and Saratoga, only one player had ever finished a conference season with an average over .400 — now there are three!

Two Vikings topped the .400 plateau this spring for West Valley to crush the old batting mark at the school — in fact, the pair combined to break 11 career, season and conference records at the plate for WVC in 1977.

Dennis Mork (Wilcox) and Mickey Rose (Camden) finished the '77 season with lofty averages and impressive batting credentials — impressive enough to gain each of them spots on the All-Golden Gate Conference first team.

Mork and Rose were each unanimous all-GGC selections, the only two unanimous choices in the conference.

Mork finished the year as the GGC's batting champ with an impressive .500 average and Rose hit .427.

Mork wrapped up the season with a .496 average overall and finished his West Valley two-year career with a .392 mark. Mork knocked in 40 runs this season, 25 in league play, scored 47 runs and belted eight homers. He swiped 21 bases in 24 tries.

Rose finished up with a .413 season average overall and a .352 career mark for Valley. He knocked in 24 runs in as many league games and stole 14 bases in as many tries on the season.

The two joined with the other members of the All-GGC team last weekend to battle conference champ San Mateo in the league all-star game.

San Mateo notched an 8-7 victory in the game but not before Rose slammed a two run homer and a single in three trips to the plate.

Mork was hitless in three trips but drilled a long fly ball to the fence in the deepest part of the stadium in the last inning that came close to tying the score.

Mork and Rose led a tremendous offensive season for West Valley. The Vikings hit .311 as a team on the season and .316 as a club in the GGC.

Duke Triplett (Branham) finished up strong to hit .343 on the season and .339 in the GGC and Ted Soza (Oak Grove) hit .338 on the year and .356 in league play.

Mike Stine hit .318 on the year and Mark Espinoza (Camden) hit .286 with a .320 GGC average. Jeff Bell (Buchser) hit .267 on the year with a .308 conference average and Jeff Kahn (Mitty) hit .286 and .290 in the GGC. Dan Mullins (Los Gatos) batted .263 on the season.

Cannady paces Kamper Kit win

RICH CANNADY belted a home run and a double to pace the Kamper Kits to a 10-6 Men's National League victory over Campbell Community Hospital last week in the Campbell Community Services adult softball league.

Mark Stagg contributed a pair of doubles and Randy Loche cracked a triple for the winners, who pounded out 13 hits in all. Ed Cina posted the win.

Don Buckle homered for the losers and Mack Kahn ripped a double.

Home runs by Randy Armos, Mark Salazar and Pete Salazar spurred the S.M.S. Barons to a 10-9 triumph over K & K.

Bob Gordon chipped in with a pair of doubles while P. Salazar and Dave Risso each had one for the winners. Lloyd Hennessy tripled for K & K.

Killroy Pest Control topped Kamper Kits 10-9, Cina again notching the win, the New York Lifers stopped the Barons 17-13 and Campbell Hospital trounced K & K 22-10 in other National League games.

In the Men's American League, Red Line outslugged the Clowns 18-14 and Gaver Concrete slipped past Snowden & Pencer 14-10.

In Co-Ed League Action, Snowden and Pender edged Homser's Hookers 10-7 while Pampco Painting and Cardiff battled to a 13-13 tie.

Broncos lose, Spartans win in SFS twin-bill

SAN FRANCISCO State's baseball team was in the area last week to play a rather unique double-header.

SFS played an afternoon game against the University of Santa Clara at Buck Shaw Stadium and then traveled across town to meet San Jose State University at PAL Stadium.

The Broncos must not be too thrilled that they had a part in the unique twin-bill, but the Spartans have to be happy about it. San Francisco nipped Santa Clara 6-5 in 10 innings but then fell to San Jose 7-3 that night.

Santa Clara outhit the SFS nine 12-11 and led at one point 4-0. But solo runs in the ninth and 10th brought San Francisco from a 5-4 deficit to the 6-5 win. Gordy Hahn, a graduate of Campbell high school, doubled for the losing Broncos.

San Jose fell behind 3-0 in the first two innings against SFS but rallied for two runs in the last of the second and the bottom of the third to take a lead they wouldn't lose again in posting the 7-3 win.

JOHN BRIDGEMAN, a product of Camden high and West Valley College, was the winning pitcher, combining with Jeff Nowotny for a six-hitter Dave Quilici homered and drove in three runs and Rich Guardino homered. Tony Biondi (Lincoln/San Jose City College) doubled for the Spartans.

San Jose and Santa Clara, rained out of a pair of games last weekend, will meet Tuesday, May 17 at 2:30 p.m. at Shaw and Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the same field.

The Spartans and Broncos did get in one game on the rain soaked weekend, Santa Clara picking up a close 4-3 decision.

Rick Foley (Leigh) was the winning pitcher for Santa Clara, thanks to a three-run, ninth inning rally for the Broncos.

George Hahn (Campbell), Dartt Wagner and Russ Brett led a seven hit Santa Clara attack with doubles.

For Hahn, who was hitting .337 heading into the game, it upped his season doubles total to 24, a Bronc record. Going into the contest Hahn led his club in doubles, runs-batted-in with 45, hits with 53 and total bases with 99. The senior catcher has committed just one error in 45 games.

Santa Clara is now 27-22 on the year, winning 15 of their last 22 games.

THE BRONCS lost a 14-10 non-league decision to California recently. Go. Hahn was two for three and knocked in a pair of runs and Dan Bongiovanni (Blackford) also drove in two runs for SCU.

San Jose dropped two of three games to Pacific recently after nipping the Tigers 6-5 in a game continued from the Spartan Classic.

Jay Peryam (Del Mar) and Dave Wickersham (Willow Glen) were each two for four and Steve Bell (Branham/West Valley) and Randy Johnson were each two for three in the 6-5 win.

Rick Lane (Mitty/West Valley College) doubled and drove in two runs in the victory.

In the series opener San Jose lost 2-1 to Pacific before coming back a day later to win the first game of a twin-bill 3-0. Steve Ferguson was two for three and Quilici was two for four in the game. Peryam doubled.

Chris Codiroli (Mitty) and Bridgeman combined to toss a three-hitter in the nightcap but San Jose lost 1-0.

Biondi was three for four with a grand slam homer to lift San Jose to a 5-4 non-league win over Stanislaus State.

Biondi was leading the Spartans in hits heading into the series with Pacific. Biondi had slapped 58 hits for San Jose for a fine .303 average. Bell was hitting a strong .345 and Quilici was the club leader at .361, playing just 15 games.

Peryam boasted a .296 average with Jim Hemeon (Leland/San Jose City College) at .259, Wickersham at .256 and Lane at .242.

Happy Missions head to Phoenix after wet week

WHEN THE RAINS hit the Santa Clara Valley last week, most county residents were thrilled to get reacquainted with the cloudy skies and the puddles on the street corners.

Most residents were happy to see the rain, but not all of them. Joe Gagliardi and his San Jose Missions were hiding in the shelter under San Jose Municipal Stadium watching the rain wash away their baseball.

The Missions deny reports that Gagliardi was humming "By the Time I Get to Phoenix" last week while the weather was ruining his club's homestand, but it comes as no surpirse that the Missions would be looking forward to their trip to Arizona this week.

San Jose took off for Phoenix for a five game stand last Saturday and then will head to Tucson for five games in four days.

The Missions were set to meet Phoenix on Wednesday, May 18, in a 7:30 p.m. game to finish the series there and will meet Tucson in 7:30 p.m. games on Thursday and Friday. The clubs will meet in a 6:30 p.m. twin-bill on Saturday and in a 7:30 p.m. game on Sunday.

Each game will be broadcast in San Jose over KX-RX radio (1500), starting 10 minutes ahead of gametime (Saturday's double-header will be broadcast over KPEN-FM).

The Missions will return home on Tuesday, May 24, to start a five game series with Salt Lake City, all 7:30 p.m. games.

Tsamis tosses perfect game

By JOHN VAUGHN

BILLY TSAMIS'S perfectly pitched game enabled Moose to romp past Willow Glen Optimist 5-0, during a rained soaked week for Campbell Little League.

Besides holding Willow Glen to no hits, Tsamis issued no walks. Craig Long was the power man for Moose with two doubles. Mike Catalana of Willow Glen was the losing pitcher, giving up seven hits.

Dwayne Cook's double in the top of the ninth inning, with the bases loaded, enabled Willow Glen to edge Robins, 2-0. The score was tied going into the top of the ninth inning, until Willow Glen's Tony Himthill hit a single. That was then followed by two walks, and finally by Cook's double, that scored the only two runs of the game.

D's Automotive still leads the pack with a record of 8-3, Moose is 6-4, Willow Glen Optimist 6-4-1, Moose is 6-4, Fontantti's and Breuners are 5-3-1, Robin's is 4-7, Doetsch is 3-5-1, and Campbell Plaza is 1-9.

Peckham helps WVC gymnasts to 1st

It was the first annual West Valley Invitational Women's Optional Gymnastic Meet, so it was only appropriate that the Viking women's gymnastic team finished where it did — first!

The Vikings finished atop the team standings at their own invitational on May 6, rolling up 102.20 points. Solano was second at 94.10.

Leslie Peckham (Campbell) and Mary Volstorff (Los Gatos) finished two-three for the Vikings in the intermediate division at the invitational to spearhead the West Valley showing.

Shauna White (Los Gatos) nailed a second for West Valley in the beginner division and Sue Scherf (Saratoga) was third for WVC in the novice class all-around.

Marcia Volstorff (Los Gatos), Kimberly Smith (Prospect), Jill Von Stockhausen (Pioneer), Stephanie Uribe and Linda Moe also performed well for the Vikings in the May 6 invitational.

Ceynowa hurls second straight Moreland gem

By DAVE MARCUS

Moreland

Pitching sensation Brad Ceynowa smoked his way into the Moreland Little League record books when he fired a no-hitter thus giving him two no-hit games in a row and 20 consecutive no-hit innings.

Ceynowa, who has only given up 3 hits in his last 27 innings, victimized the Reds this time as his team, the Angels, won 5-1.

This hitless gem was especially satisfying for the brilliant pitcher because he won. Due to a bizzare set of circumstances, Ceynowa lost his first no-hit performance.

The Cubs now lead the standings in the Moreland League with a 5-2 mark, followed by the Dodgers and Yankees 5-3, the Mets 5-4, the Giants 4-2 and the Reds 3-5.

Bringing up the rear are the Ceynowa led Angels 3-6, and the 2-7 Senators.

QUITO

Pitching started to outclass hitting, and a dynasty was broken as the Quito Little League continued its play.

The Rangers who were previously unbeaten and totally dominating barely escaped with a win in one game and then were totally flattened in their next one as their winning streak ended at seven.

The first chip in the Rangers dynasty took place when Bill Best and the Cardinals took on the Rangers. Best pitched magnificently yielding only three hits and one free pass while striking out six Rangers. But the Cardinal fielding failed and the Rangers squeezed out a five inning rain shortened game 2-0. Both runs were unearned. Quito 11, WV 11, Moreland 11.

But rain, luck or even heroics could not save the Rangers when they took the field against the Braves. Led by the masterful pitching of Dan Crowley the Braves ended the Rangers string, with a 4-0 victory. Crowley devastated the Rangers giving up only two hits while whiffing 12. Bill Milligan led an awesome Braves' offense by doubling in two runs.

The Rangers sudden defeat gave hope to the rest of the teams in the league, especially the 5-2 Phillies and the 5-3 Twins who are preparing for a big game against the Rangers.

WEST VALLEY

The West Valley Little League continued its exciting play as several teams jumped out to big leads at all levels of play..

In the Little League majors, the Cardinals clinched first in the first half of play with an sensational 10-0 mark.

Rain hampers Bobby Sox play

Lucitt swings big bat in Stringer victory

By JEFF WAGNER

Unusually wet weather caused many games to be postponed in the girls Bobby Sox leagues last week. Despite limited playing time by the West Valley, Moreland and Campbell leagues, some games were played.

WEST VALLEY

Triples by Sandra Lavin and Dionna House, plus three RBI's on two doubles by Mary Lucitt led the Stringers to a 15-10 win over the Truckers in a game played in the majors.

Becky Calfee went four for five and Kris Towner went three for four in an 8-6 win for Dick's Chicks over the Bionic Grasshoppers. Mary Sheehan knocked a homer in a losing cause.

Carrie Vaianisi clobbered a grandslam homer, pitched six no-hit innings and struck out 13 batters in a very impressive outing for the Ravens. In another Raven game, Vaianisi had a single, double, and two triples, totaling nine RBI's.

Seven strike-outs in four innings of relief pitching by Melinda Yee, led the second place Radical Racers to a 9-3 win.

Home runs were featured in the minors. Two were hit by Karen McCauley, one being a grand slam, as her team, the Kopy Kats, defeated the Abeck Cruisers.

Pitcher Erin Schwartz went four for four for the Abeck Cruisers, who dumped the Chevron Supremes in a later game. Schwartz struck out 10 opposing batters.

A three run single by Cindy Richmond, plus a game tying triple by pitcher McCauley, helped the Kopy Kats in a come-from-behind win over The Treads.

MORELAND

The majors had the first place Cubs whipping the second place Giants 13-1. Four RBI's by Teresa Stephens keyed the victory. The Giants came back to defeat the Yankees 13-4 in a later game. The Giants added a triple play to help out in the victory. Juliana Humphrey had a homer for the Giants.

The Braves nabbed two victories, 14-4 over the Phillies and 5-4 over the Red Sox. Two runs in the last inning gave the Braves the victory. Pitcher Mary Ann Malsen fanned 10 Red Sox.

The Royals defeated the Tigers 14-6, in a minor game. Fifteen strikeouts by Jody Costanza led the Dodgers to a 7-3 win over the Athletics. The Athletics lost again 17-5 in the hands of the Tigers. The Royals edged the Pirates 9-7, while the Dodgers beat the Mets 10-4.

CAMPBELL

A close game in the majors featured home runs by Jackie Allen and Kim Agliolo. That wasn't enough, though, as the Giants lost to the Cubs, 15-13.

A homer by Elizabeth Lucas led the Padres to a convincing 18-4 win over the Cardinals. The Reds won three in a row after losing in their first two starts. A seventh inning 5-4 comeback victory was the first win. They knocked off the Phillies 8-4, while winning by forfeit over the Giants in their first night game.

Other major games had the Astros edging the Giants 7-4 and the Mets clobbering the Braves, 20-5.

A home run and two triples by Sheree Fuller, plus pitcher Meg Carlton helped her own cause by hitting a homer in a 21-7 Royal win over the Athletics, in just one of seven minor league games played.

The Twins beat the Indians 22-5 in an error free game.

Wendy Failing, going four for four at the plate, helped the Tigers to an 11-7 win over the Orioles. The Angels ripped the White Sox 14-1, while the Twins beat the Royals 16-7, the Indians clobbered the Athletics 28-9, and the Tigers scored 30 runs in defeating the White Sox, 30-11.

Sunbirds, WPSL set for second season

By DAVE MENDONCA

ALTHOUGH many so called experts predicted it wouldn't make it through its maiden season, the Women's Professional Softball League begins its second year of existence Friday night in Southern California.

Hopefully for the WPSL, year two won't be nearly as tough as year one.

The WPSL boasted 10 teams at the start of last year, five in the West division and five in the East. But over the winter six teams disbanded, the group including Chicago, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Southern California, San Deigo and Arizona.

The league is now composed of just six teams and has no divisional split. The 1977 entries include World Series champion Connecticut, San Jose, Santa Ana, Buffalo and expansionists St. Louis and Bakersfield.

Other changes over the winter include a reduction of last year's murderous 120 game schedule to 88 games, pushing the pitcher's mound back from 40' to 44' in an attempt to raise anemic batting averages and a new play-off system.

WITHOUT THE divisional set-up, four teams will qualify for post-season play this year. The team that finishes first in regular season action will earn a berth in the World Series. The second, third and fourth place clubs, meanwhile, will collide in a three day round robin to determine which team will advance to the finals.

Round robin play will also be evident in regular season play this year in an attempt to cut travel. Each team will host a three day round robin at one time during the year, featuring three clubs.

San Jose, for example, will host Santa Ana and Bakersfield June 24-26 at Municipal Stadium. During the three day series, each club will play four games.

In addition to the WPSL's new look, the Sunbirds will also have a brand new look when they open their 1977 season Friday evening in Santa Ana against Charlotte Graham and the Santa Ana Lionettes.

Only seven players remain from the 17 that opened last year's schedule. The only Sunbird returners include Diane Kalliam, Bonnie Johnson, Diane Weiner, Karen Ambler, Merribeth Carlson, Cheryl Stewart and Brenda Gamblin.

Gone are All-Stars Graham and Mary Lou Pennington (traded to Santa Ana), leftfielder Cyndi Lillock and utility infielder Dian Iversen (released), pitcher Marilyn Burnett, shortstop Mary Flint and second sacker Nancy Plantz (retired), and first sacker Allie Henderson and catcher Janice Abuchon (quit).

JOINING THE Sunbird veterans this year are pitchers Rhonda Ebersole and Rayona Sharpnack, catcher Debbie Merritt, infielders Teri Mariani, Sue Lindh and Cindy Reynolds, and outfielders Jill Von Adelung and Connie Staff.

The Sunbirds also have a new manager in Gary Cunningham, who takes over for the retired Laura Malesh.

Ebersole, a hard throwing 18 year old who won 17 games for the Southern California Gems last year, will more than likely draw the opening day assignment against Santa Ana Friday night so that Bonnie Johnson can toss the home opener May Sunday, May 29, against the St. Louis Hummers.

The Sunbirds opening day line-up will probably have Renolds at first, Ambler at second, Gamblin at shortstop, Lindh at third, Staff, Kalliam and Weiner in the outfield and Carlson behind the plate.

After opening the season Friday with a single game against the Lionettes, the Sunbirds close out their short series with Santa Ana Saturday with a doubleheader.

After a pair of twinbills in Bakersfield May 27-28, the Sunbirds open up their home slate against St. Louis with a double dipper Sunday, May 29. Game one is set to start at 7:30 p.m.

Broglio tops local bat camp

FORMER MAJOR League baseball star Ernie Broglio will headline the staff for the Broglio-Serpa "All-Star Baseball School" to be held in San Jose on Aug. 7-13 and Aug. 14-20 for boys aged 8-22.

The school covers basic and advanced baseball and players are placed in groups according to their ages.

A detailed brochure on the camp can be obtained by calling the school's main office at 415-799-3166 or by writing the Broglio-Serpa Baseball School, Dept. PR, 362 Parker Ave., Rodeo, California (94572).

Four meet records fall at finals

No surprise—Camden rolls to track title

DURING THE West Valley Athletic League regular season, Camden romped to eight track wins to post an unblemished 8-0 dual meet record.

So it came as little surprise last week to see the Cougars wrap up the WVAL track championship with a first place showing at the league finals held at West Valley College.

Camden rolled up 93 team points to claim the crown with Del Mar second at 79. The second place slot at the finals secured second place in the final league standings for the Dons, who finished the dual season at 6-1-1.

Prospect was a close third at the finals with 75 points after a 5-2-1 season and Leigh was fourth at 65 after a 6-2 year. The two ended up sharing third in the final standings.

There were four WVAL meet records either tied or broken in the league championship event.

Mark Stewart tied a long standing WVAL championship meet record while leading the Cougars to the team title.

Stewart tied the record in the 100 at 9.8 on his way to a first place finish. Stewart tied the mark set in 1959 by Bill Campbell of Campbell high school. Stewart also won the 220 for the Cougars at 21.9.

PROSPECT'S Mike McNiven and Los Gatos' Brett Woods were also double winners at the league finals, setting a meet record each.

McNiven won the 330 low hurdles in 38.3 for the Panthers to snap the league record of 39.2 set in 1972 by Tracy Wilson of Branham. McNiven also picked off a first place in the 440 clocked at 50.4.

Woods set a new meet record in the long jump at 23'2", breaking Rex White's record of 23'¼", set in 1976 for Camden. Woods won the high jump at 6'7" for Los Gatos.

Blake Fearnside set a new meet record for Del Mar on his way to a first place finish in the pole vault. The Don vaulter soared to 15'2" for first and the record.

Don Brown was another Cougar winner in the meet, taking the shot put at 56-4½" and Dave Sheehan won the discus for Prospect with a 167-6½" heave.

Paul Caruso romped to a first in the 120 high hurdles for the Panthers clocked at 14.5 and Ken Wright of Westmont jumped to a win in the triple jump at 46-½".

Ray Russell won the two mile for Blackford at 9:40.6 and Larry Bergkamp took the mile for Leigh at 4:24. Tom Samario won the 880 for the longhorns at 1:56.6.

Camden romped to a first place finish in the 440 relay at 43.5 and Del Mar sprinted to a victory in the mile relay at 3:27.2.

PETE ANGELIDAKIS placed in a pair of events and Jeff Dove and Rod Rodriguez placed in one each to help Del Mar to the second place finish at the finals.

Angelidakis placed second in the discus at 167-5" and third in the shot put at 53'4" for the Dons in the meet. Dove added a second in the 880 at 1:57 and Rodriguez was third in the pole vault at 14'4".

Caruso added a third place finish in the 220 at 22.8 for Prospect to go with his win in the hurdles to, along with McNiven, lead the Panthers to third.

Bob Gordon nailed a second in the high jump at 6'2" for the Panthers and the Prospect mile relay team romped to second at 3:28.2.

Westmont put together a strong showing to get fifth in the team standings at the finals.

Wright added a third place in the long jump at 21'7" to go with his triple jump win and Rocky Pena was second in the 120 high hurdles at 14.8. Paul Riggle was second in the pole vault at 14.4 and the Warriors were third in the mile relay at 44.3. Dave Bryant was third in the two mile at 9:43.5.

Blackford performed well in the sprints at the finals, placing a runner in each of the sprint events and finishing second in the 440 relay at 43.6. Mark Harrison was second in 100 for the Braves at 10.1 and Phil Forgatch was second in the 220 at 22.4.

Divers lead Westmont to strong showing at CCS

THE WESTMONT Warriors, relying on the performances of two divers, turned in a respectable 12th place showing recently at the annual Central Coast Section swimming and diving championships, held at Gunderson high school.

Joe Kammerer rang up 391.14 points in the one meter dive to capture the individual championship in that event while teammate Mark Diaz finished sixth with a total of 351.78 points.

The Warriors finished with 32 team points, the second best showing by a West Valley Athletic League team at the meet.

WVAL champ Los Gatos turned in a strong fifth place showing, recording 85 points.

Meanwhile, Santa Clara, the perennial CCS champion, finished first again with 161 points, easily outdistancing the second place Bellarmine Bells, who accumulated 121 points.

Prior to CCS, Westmont failed in its bid to nab a share of the WVAL crown when the Warriors finished a disappointing third at the league finals.

Los Gatos, the dual meet king, won the WVAL title outright by finishing first at the loop finals with 245 points.

LEIGH, FIFTH during the dual meet season, finished a surprising second with 179 points, six more than the third place Warriors. Campbell finished fourth at the loop finals and fourth overall. Del Mar was fifth at both the finals and overall.

Warrior divers Kammerer and Diaz, along with Otto Leidreiter, again led the Westmont effort.

Kammerer won the league title with 361.95 points, followed closely by Diaz' total of 356.70. Leidreiter finished fourth with 282.00 points.

The only other individual champion for Westmont was Jeff Culp in the 100 breast. Culp turned in a brilliant 1:03.2 clocking.

Bill Brandenberg picked up a third in the breast (1:06.3) and a fourth in the 200 IM (2:09.3). Bill Zirzow claimed a third in the 500 free (5:00.8) and a fifth in the 200 free (1:52.3). Tom Boese captured a fifth in the 500 free (5:05.5).

Craig Peterson led Campbell's fourth place showing with a second in the 100 back (59.0). Bill Quaill finished fourth in the 100 free (51.3) while Buff Gallmann came in fourth in the 500 free (5:01.7). Pete Motekaitis nailed a fifth in the back (1:01.0).

Branham won the frosh-soph finals with 97½ points, finishing far ahead of second place Los Gatos (56). Prospect was fourth with 32 points, Westmont fifth with 24, Campbell sixth with 16 and Del Mar seventh with seven. Leigh and Blackford tied for last with four points each.

Locals head list of Vike qualifiers for NorCal

Three Vikings and a West Valley College relay team performed well enough last weekend to qualify for the Northern California track and field championships this Friday at Diablo Valley College.

The group of Vikes placed high enough in their specialties at the NorCal trials at San Joaquin Delta College to win berths at the NorCal finals.

Jerry Mulligan and Steve Oravetz (Campbell) each topped the 15' qualifying height in the pole vault for the Vikes and Ray Aver (Branham) qualified in the 5,000 meters, placing fifth in his heat at 15:26.

"Aver ran the race of his life," said Vike coach Bill Campbell. "He ran 22 seconds faster than his best ever."

Wayne Gray (Campbell), Jim Kirkish (Campbell), Rich Miller (Leigh) and Kevin Soulsby (Camden) finished third in their heat in the mile relay at 3:19.8 to win a berth in the NorCal finals. Gray ran a blistering 48.7 quarter-mile in his leg of the relay.

The NorCal 10,000 meter finals were held the same day at Delta and Bob Paulin (Camden) ran to a fifth place finish at 31:49.

The Viking qualifiers will compete Friday at DVC gunning for spots in the state meet a week later in Bakersfield.

On June 3 and 4 Gray will take part in the state decathlon finals at Hancock College in Santa Maria.

Deadline for the column is 10 a.m. Monday for that week's issue of the Campbell PRESS.

"A REAL CUTIE"

Sugar Babe, a medium sized purebred French Poodle, with papers, needs a new home. Her owners are moving and can only take one of their dogs with them. She is about 7 years old, has all her shots, is spayed, a solid black color, and is a "very good dog." Although very loving and affectionate, she has not been around children much, so should probably prefer living with an adult family. She especially likes to be around women. Call 378-8932 if you want this dog, free, including her registration papers.

THE NEIGHBORS ARE HAVING A FIT

A local family with eight children, each having a pet of their own, is "being hassled by the neighbors and the health department to get rid of some of them." They have a mother cat with four fluffy kittens that are now about eight weeks old and weaned. Also a white mother cat with three kittens about four weeks old who'll be ready to move soon. Plus two dogs, one of which is "very energetic." He's part miniature Collie and part Terrier, and needs a lot of room to play around in. Call 248-1443 after 3:30 for one of these free pets, and maybe one or two others you can ask about.

HERBIE'S MISSING

A one and a half year old grey and white male cat has wandered away from his Montezuma dr. home. Herbie has large white circle markings on both sides and a chronic infection in his left eye. Call Pat at 378-9136 days.
